New Library For R. C. Urged By Legion Post

Study of Local Needs Urged by Veterans On Council

A move to gain a new public library for Redwood City was launched Monday by Post 105, American Legion.

Comm. Roger Walsh and Adjt. Millard W. Berry of the legion announced that a resolution was adopted unanimously at the regular meeting Monday calling upon the city council of Redwood City to make "an immediate study . . . of the feasibility of early construction of a new public library, adequate to the needs of our growing city, in which provision shall be made for a John Gill Memorial Room for children, along the line formulated by the John Gill Memorial Committee."

ACUTE NEED TOLD

The resolution, after pointing out that a fund was raised in the city for the memorial room to honor the memory of the late Redwood City school superintendent, asserts:

"There is an acute need for a new public library, since the present structure, built 30 years ago for a city of 3000 people, is inadequate to meet the needs of a community now more than quadrupled in size—an average of 1500 new names having been added annually, for the past nine years, to the list of library patrons, and the total annual circulation of books having grown in that time from 38,000 to 118,000.

"Apart from our direct concern with the incidental need for making available to Redwood City children the facilities which the John Gill Memorial Fund will provide, we of the American Legion share the belief expressed by many progressive citizens that more adequate library facilities are essential to the success of efforts to extend Redwood City's fame as a desirable community in which to live."

BEFORE COUNCIL MONDAY

Copies of the resolution are being sent to the city council and to the board of trustees of Redwood City Public Library.

The council, it is expected, will give consideration to the proposal at its meeting in the Firehouse Auditorium next Monday night. The library board meets again Mar. 7.

Unidentified Man Is Traffic Victim

San Mateo County's fifth 1938 traffic victim met his fate Tues. night on Bayshore Hwy. near South San Francisco. He was an unidentified itinerant, about 65 or 70 years of age, struck down by a machine driven by F. W. Heathcote, San Mateo, at 8:25 p.m.

Heathcote took the man to the South San Francisco Hospital, where the victim was pronounced dead of a skull fracture. He also suffered fractures of both legs.

According to Heathcote, the man was walking in the middle of the highway near the California Round Chain Co. plant south of the underpass. Heathcote was released on his own recognizance.

3 Candidates Now in Field For Council

2 Incumbents To Run Independently This Year

Three candidates were in the field today for the three seats to be filled Apr. 12 on Redwood City's city council.

Louis C. Christensen and James M. Eva, incumbents whose terms are expiring, announced simultaneously Monday that they definitely would be candidates for re-election.

Although they were elected first to the council four years ago on a "New Deal" ticket and platform with Evans A. Fletcher, they said this time each would campaign independently, with no particular platform inasmuch as there is nothing especially controversial facing the council at this time. Each said he would stand on his record as a councilman.

CHRISTENSEN ACTIVE HERE

Fletcher has not yet decided whether to seek re-election, he said.

Harold F. Anderson, Redwood City attorney, announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for one of the council positions.

Councilman Christensen, a retired merchant, has lived in Redwood City for 12 years, residing at present at 324 Hopkins Ave. with Mrs. Christensen. He owns his home there, in addition to business property in the city. A member of the Kiwanis Club, Masonic and Eagles lodges and Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, Christensen has been active in civic work as well as on the council, where he at present serves on the 1915 Bond Act Refunding Committee and on a new committee named last week to recommend a policy for extension of the city's services to nearby rural areas.

EVA NATIVE OF R. C.

Councilman Eva, who was born in Redwood City 34 years ago and has lived here ever since, is an instructor in social sciences at Sequoia High School, where he also is student counselor and swimming coach. With Mrs. Eva and their daughter, Anabel, he lives in his own home at 438 Brewster St. Eva is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eva of San Francisco, residents of Redwood City for many years after they came here in 1902.

Like Christensen, Eva has been active in civic life of the community. He is a past president of the Redwood City Exchange Club and belongs to the local Masonic and Eagles lodges. He is chairman of the 1915 Bond Act Refunding Committee and also of the other committee on which Christensen serves. Eva was instigator of the movement which brought the new and successful recreation program to Redwood City.

The terms sought are for four years. Only salary attached to the offices is $20 a month, supposedly $10 each for the two regular meetings. No pay is given for special meetings, although the council ordinarily finds it necessary to hold a number of them each year.

While Eva, Christensen and Anderson are the only candidates to announce themselves so far for the council posts, reports are current that there will be more candidacies.

Holdover councilmen, with two more years in their terms, are Mayor Paul A. McCarthy, George W. McNulty, Robert N. Jones and William Hohn.

WYATT LEAVES FOR MEET

Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, entrained last night to attend a general meeting of all secretaries in the state to be held today, Friday and Saturday, in Santa Monica.

Solution Is Seen To Controversy Over '101' Signs

A possible satisfactory solution to all interests in the controversy over whether El Camino Real or the Bayshore Hwy. should be designated "U. S. Highway 101" was seen today.

Members of the El Camino Real Association who met with state highway officials Monday afternoon brought back word of the answer to the problem, as suggested by State Highway Engineer C. H. Purcell.

The solution: That the "101" signs be returned to El Camino Real and that the Bayshore be designated as a "by-pass" highway.

Such by-pass designations are in existence elsewhere, but under present rules of the National Association of Highway Engineers, refer only to highways which skirt one town—"a city," according to the regulations.

But Purcell expressed belief that if the El Camino Real Association built a case on the assumption that although there are 18 cities between San Jose and San Francisco which the Bayshore skirts, the entire district is one built-up area, it might be possible to have the "101" designation restored to El Camino Real, from which it was recently taken, and the Bayshore designated as a by-pass route from San Jose to San Francisco.

Doubt was expressed by Purcell that success would result from any endeavor to get the signs back on the strength of business lost to merchants and cities on the route, because the engineers' organization looks upon the signing of highways as something to be done only for expedition of traffic.

The 2½-hour session with Purcell, Highway Divisional Engineer John H. Skeggs and other state men was featured by talks by El Camino Real Association President Hugh H. Smith, who is chairman of the county supervisorial board; Councilman Evans A. Fletcher of Redwood City; Judge Charles Carlstroem, Sunnyvale; State Sen. Harry Parkman, and others of the nearly 50 present, among whom was City Manager C. L. Dimmitt of Redwood City.

Smith expressed belief the association would follow Purcell's advice and build up a new case. Purcell assured the group he would lend aid; would even give advice on method of presenting the problem to the national association.

Serious Fire Averted By Sequoia Students

Quick thinking by two Sequoia High School boys saved them from possible burns when their car caught fire Monday evening near a gasoline pump at the school garage.

The blaze caught when they started the motor. Realizing their peril near the gasoline pump, they pushed the machine a safe distance away. Then after turning in an alarm, they set to work dousing the fire.

MENLO PARK NEWS

The lone redwood tree standing on the brink of San Francisquito Creek at Palo Alto withstood the recent storm as it has storms of the past 2000 years. It is growing old and soon must succumb to the elements like its twin mate did many years ago.

The exact date has become controversial, no one knowing the year. All oldtimers disagree as to the year when the twin toppled and fell, and differ in time from five to ten years.

Palo Alto was named after the giant tree, and the city has done everything to preserve the historic redwood.

Ten cypress trees standing in the picnic grounds at Menlo Park were blown down by the storm, however. They were trees planted by the late Martin Kuck in the '70s.

An insect that came to California many years ago has infected the cypress trees, and every winter many fall. The government has tried to eradicate the beetle but apparently without success. The fine grove of cypress on the O'Kane estate has almost disappeared from the plague.

Rev. Charles E. Fritz, new pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, will move here next week from Los Altos to occupy the parochial residence to be vacated soon by Rev. Ralph Smith. Rev. Fritz will deliver his initial sermon here the first Sunday in March.

The roof of the Church of the Nativity is being shingled. From time to time the roof has been patched, but this is the first instance in many years a complete job has been done.

Elderly Woman Is Near Death From Exposure

BURLINGAME, Feb. 16—"Please give me a cup of coffee."

Lying on the cold kitchen floor, semi-conscious and weak from lack of food because for two days she was unable to summon aid, Mrs. Eliza Ambler, 80-year-old Burlingame resident thus greeted Police Sergt. R. C. Theur today.

At Mills Memorial Hospital, where Mrs. Ambler was rushed, police were told her condition was grave. She suffered mainly from exposure.

Neighbors at the apartment house in which Mrs. Ambler resided called police this morning to report that Mrs. Ambler had not been seen for two days.

Sergeant Theur found the apartment locked. Breaking in, he saw Mrs. Ambler lying on the floor, dressed in a bathrobe. As she saw him, she feebly turned and asked for the coffee.

Before the officer could fix the beverage, an ambulance arrived.

Police said Mrs. Ambler lived alone.

Because of her age, she was in a critical condition.

A nephew, C. F. Mattley, Oakland Carbon Company manager, was notified.

New Grand Jury Called to Meet Here on Friday

San Mateo County's 1938 grand jury will meet at 1:30 p.m. Friday to receive instructions from Judge Aylett R. Cotton, who will at that time appoint a foreman and secretary.

The jury list, which contains the names of 19 civic and business leaders of the county, was drawn in Judge Maxwell McNutt's court Dec. 29. Judge Cotton was ill at the time.

When the grand jury venire was first drawn, Judge Cotton indicated that he had no intention of becoming involved in a dispute over gambling conditions or any other matters with the 1937 jury or Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb.

The statement followed refusal of the 1937 jury foreman, Patrick R. Rorke, to release a report on gambling formulated by agents from Webb's office.

On the 1938 panel are the following:

South San Francisco: Adolph Sani, Jesus V. Ron; Half Moon Bay: Charles A. Cavalli, Col. Felix La Crosse; Pescadero: Tilman B. Grigsby; San Mateo: John D. Bromfield, Percy J. Shaw.

Beresford: James Mulryan; Burlingame: Thomas J. Broderick, C. H. Whitney, Florence Stone, Lillie May McDonald and Wallace B. Plummer; San Bruno: Frieda Schade; North Palo Alto: Howard Stafford; Menlo Park: W. H. Weeden, James Brown; Redwood City: Maj. H. W. Edmonds; San Carlos: Asa Hull.

Salvage operations at the Golden State Mushroom Company's plant on Spring St., closed since Dec. 4 by a strike, are progressing, but may not be completed for three or four months, Manager Stuart Savery said today.

Picketing of the plant has stopped, he said. Four former employes who had been on the picket lines are employed now in the salvaging process. Mushrooms thus saved are taken to the firm's Soquel plant for canning. The company decided to close permanently when it and the CIO union which called the strike were unable to effect a settlement.

Cellar Fire Perils Home, Kills Pet Dog

SAN CARLOS, Feb. 14—Spatty, fox terrier belonging to Mr. and Mrs. C. Pries of 260 Kelton Ave., San Carlos, was the sole victim of a fire which started at his home in the Pries basement at 4:15 oclock this morning.

Fire Chief Edward J. Wheeler found the dog suffocated to death when he answered the alarm turned in by Mrs. E. Shiel, daughter of the Pries couple, who was staying with her parents.

The fire had apparently started when wood piled around the furnace caught on fire. Spatty had apparently been too sleepy or too interested to get out.

Firemen extinguished the blaze shortly after they arrived. Damage, which touched only the basement, was estimated at $100.

Henry Beeger Named To Head Harbor Board

Leases of Port Land To 3 Lumber Firms Meet Approval

Henry A. Beeger of 83 Duane St., Redwood City resident all his life, city councilman from 1923 to 1934, and mayor from 1924 to 1930, today headed the Redwood City Board of Port Commissioners as president, following his unanimous election by the board Teusday night.

Beeger, head of the tanning firm bearing his name, has been on the port board since June 1 of last year.

Named secretary to succeed Beeger was Elmer S. Hurrell, 155 Fulton St., manager of the Johns-Manville Products Corp.

John E. McCarthy, who did not desire the advancement to the presidency, remains as vice president.

MORSER TAKES SEAT

Ralph C. R. Morser, named by City Manager C. L. Dimmitt as commissioner to replace the late E. B. Hinman, was welcomed to the board last night.

Edmund Scott is the other commissioner.

The board at its meeting heard a discussion on labor difficulties by Henry A. Schmidt, president of the San Francisco local of the longshoremen's union, a CIO affiliate, and approved definite offers to lease land at the port made by three lumber distributors.

Port Manager Walter F. Murphy was authorized to consummate leases with the McElroy Lumber Co., operating Peninsula yards, and the W. R. Chamberlin Co., San Francisco, and Hill & Morton, Oakland, wholesale distributors. Each will require about two acres of ground at the port.

DELIVERIES ASSURED

Not only will the leasing of the property bring in an income from the land rental, but will assure regular delivery of lumber over the wharf, Manager Murphy said.

Insurance for the port was directed placed through the local association, following procedure used by the city council.

In his 45-minute discussion with the commissioners, Schmidt considered many phases of the CIO-AFL tieup of lumber stored at the port, declaring it was ridiculous for the local carpenters and joiners' union, an AFL affiliate, to boycott lumber at the port because it was CIO-milled. He pointed out that the carpenters use tools that are CIO-manufactured; wear CIO-made overalls; drive in CIO-built automobiles.

MEDIATION EXPECTED

That the CIO longshoremen might retaliate and refuse to handle AFL lumber from boats if the latter organization extends its attempted boycott was suggested by Schmidt, although no definite threat was made.

He expressed hope that a San Francisco "committee of 43" composed of employers would be able to get the AFL and CIO representatives together to effect mediation of the dispute.

Lumber at the port is expected to be moved shortly, Manager Murphy said. Because of the storm, yards have not desired to take it, so that no effort has been made to force its removal.

250 Pay Honor To George Hall

SAN MATEO, Feb. 16 — Well-known California educators, county and city officials, teachers and former pupils, to the number of 250, honored George W. Hall, who retired Feb. 1 as superintendent of the San Mateo Elementary School system, at a testimonial banquet last night at Hotel Benjamin Franklin in San Mateo.

As a climax to the fete, a plaque was presented to the veteran teacher—before his resignation the oldest educator in point of service in the grammar schools in the United States — by Miss Minnie Edwards, principal of the Hayward Park School. The plaque is to be placed on the Central Grammar School, where Hall maintained his offices for many years. The school name will be changed to the George W. Hall School.

Thomas Hardy's ashes were buried in Westminster Abbey but his heart was buried in his parish churchyard in Wessex.

Fiesta Officials Hopeful of Funds

SAN MATEO, Feb. 16—Bruce S. Gibson and Chester Lipman, chairman and secretary-manager, respectively, of the San Mateo County Fiesta Commission, were hopeful today that the State Department of Finance would classify the county's annual floral fete as an eight-year show.

If the department does so, $10,600 will be available for premiums instead of $8000 for 1939. Funds are allocated from pari-mutuel race money.

"We received a cordial reception from Fred Links, deputy chief of the State Department of Finance, when we conferred with him yesterday in Sacramento," Lipman said.

"He told us he would go into the matter thoroughly and would give us his decision in a few days."

In pleading the fiesta's cause to Links, Gibson and Lipman pointed out that the show is an eight-year, not a four-year, exposition because prior to formation of the present organization the county supported the annual San Mateo County Fall Flower Show.

Women have been barred for centuries from Mount Athos, a shrine on one of the Greek islands in the Aegean Sea.

Chief Only Sufferer In 2 Night Alarms

Despite two alarms answered by the Redwood City Fire Department Tuesday night, only damage done appeared to be to the clothes of Chief Mark E. Ryan.

This damage occurred when the chief slipped into a pool of muddy water while aiding in putting out a minor blaze in a shed in the rear of the First National Bank. Policeman W. G. Keller had noticed the fire at 9:14 o'clock while on his beat. Firemen doused the blaze with a few buckets of water. No damage was done papers stored in the shed, bank officers said.

The second call was a false alarm turned in at midnight from a box at the Jefferson Ave.-El Camino Real intersection.

Vandeleur Hits CIO, Ires Part Of Forum Group

SAN MATEO, Feb. 16 — Scheduled to speak upon present day labor problems, Edward Vandeleur, secretary of the California State Federation of Labor, devoted most of his time at the Peninsula Forum last night to a condemnation of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

However, a packed house, which included many CIO adherents, appeared to enjoy the sharp discussions that developed during the question period.

Vandeleur stated that the AFL was organized to aid the worker and to stand for the real American institutions. He considered that the CIO, started by an "opportunist," was using force and threats to organize men who were already organized. He said that the AFL organized 103,000 workers in California last year, while the CIO did not organize a man who was not already in a labor group.

The speaker cited several examples of the work done by the CIO to get membership, and claimed that the group included "reds" and "Communists." He said that the AFL no longer considered the CIO a threat; that the CIO was really "through," and that many of its members would like to get back into the ranks of the AFL. His charge that the CIO was sending money to aid in killing people in Spain met with objections from some in the audience who asserted that the money was used for other, humanitarian, purposes.

Vandeleur continued that for 27 years the AFL could not get rid of the reds but that overnight Lewis took them out of the party "for nothing." He said he felt that CIO leaders were especially interested in getting control of union treasuries.

He suggested several questions that the audience ask of Harry Bridges, Pacific Coast director of the CIO, when he speaks at the junior college Mar. 1, and said there was no place for Bridges in the AFL.

In the preceding local affairs group, Ray Spangler, Redwood City newspaperman, discussed the political situation in San Mateo County.

The first official flag of Texas was a single gold star in a blue field.

1714 Register At S. M. Office

Minus the ceremonies which characterized its inauguration in San Francisco and Oakland, the California unemployment insurance system began to pay off in San Mateo County Tuesday.

According to Wade Sargeant, head of the State Employment Service office at 15 B St., San Mateo, about 300 jobless in the county may expect their first checks this week. Average payment will be about $10, with a maximum of $15.

The office has registered 1714 unemployed and has sent their claims to Sacramento for validation. Sargeant expects about 1000 of these to be approved, and only about 300 have completed the necessary waiting period.

Sargeant explains the workings of the system thus: Any unemployed person who has been discharged, and who has met the other requirements of the unemployment insurance act, including minimum earnings of $156 since January, 1936, and contributions to the unemployment insurance fund for at least two full quarters, may register his claim.

A four-week waiting period follows, after which the first benefits will be returned. If an employe quits work voluntarily, he must wait eight weeks for his first insurance check.

Benefits are figured at 50 per cent of the claimant's average weekly earnings, the maximum payment not to exceed $15 per week. Claims must be made each week, and in no case will total payments exceed $300.

The 300 eligible for insurance checks this week registered in the first week of January, Sargeant said. The number will increase week by week as more unemployed complete their waiting periods.

Return of between 250 and 300 men to Bethlehem Steel Corp. in South San Francisco last week reduced the San Mateo County list by that number, he revealed.

About 40,000 checks will be mailed from Sacramento this week, he estimated.

School's Out Tuesday But Not on Monday

No four-day holiday week-end trips will be in order for teachers or students in Redwood City's schools, it was revealed today when school administrators announced that only a one-day holiday on Tuesday, Washington's Birthday, will be observed in the schools. Students will be expected to be in their classes on Monday, the school officials said.

As is customary, most Redwood City stores, and all city and county offices, banks, title companies and like businesses will be closed Tuesday.

To encourage the landing of tourists in Mexican ports the Mexican government has decreed that ships entering or leaving harbors carrying tourists exclusively shall be assessed only 40 per cent of the usual charges for pilot service.

Five Defendants Named in Action

Garth Neikirk, a minor; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Neikirk; Walter M. High, former county supervisor, and Mrs. Charles Hoyle were named defendants in a suit filed here today by Helen Buffa, 18, 304 Sierra Ave., Redwood City, and Angelina Ballatore.

The complaint asks $5000 for Helen Buffa and $3000 for Angelina Ballatore, for personal injuries.

According to the complaint, Neikirk was the employe of Mrs. Hoyle and High, owners of the car, at the time of an accident at Madison and Cleveland Sts., Redwood City, June 12, 1937.

Attorney for the plaintiffs is M. Mitchell Borquin.

Billboard Rule Here Delayed

Before Redwood City's planning commission decides on a recommendation to the council regarding further billboard construction in this city, it will inspect the various sites sought for the signs, members decided at their meeting at the firehouse Monday.

The date set for the tour was Feb. 22—Washington's Birthday.

Representatives of both the Western Advertising Co., which seeks to put in signs here, and Foster & Kleiser, which already has some signs and wants more, were present last night to press applications.

The commission gave tentative approval to preliminary plans for subdivision into business property of the Southern Pacific property south of the station, known as "Butcherfield." Julius Smith, local realtor, presented the plans. He is to complete them, showing location of all streets, lots and such items, and return to the commission for final approval.

Application of the First Baptist Church for permit to construct an addition which would not conform to present setback lines and limiting areas was delayed pending attempts of the church to acquire more ground.

Sewage District Annexation Urged

ATHERTON, Feb. 16—Annexation proceedings should be undertaken to incorporate northwest Atherton within the confines of the Menlo Park Sanitary District, the Atherton town council was advised yesterday afternoon.

City Engineer James S. James and City Atty. Arthur Dibblee, following a conference with Daniel E. Sullivan of the district attorney's office, told the council that the simplest and most economical method of obtaining modern sewage disposal for that part of Atherton now chiefly served by septic tanks, lay in the annexation.

By arrangement between the sanitary district and the North Fair Oaks sewer district a satisfactory plan of disposal through the North Fair Oaks line on Stockbridge Ave. could be provided, Dibblee reported. Under the state's laws the sanitary district is a powerful governmental entity, while the sewer district is merely a maintenance unit to levy taxes and operate a sewer main, Dibblee explained.

Councilman James B. Howell entered a protest against the intercession of the town's government in the sewage disposal problem, which he asserted was outside the council's jurisdiction.

The council heard the terms of a proposed electric power franchise to be granted to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Tuesday, Mar. 29, at 4 p.m. a public hearing will be held in the town hall on the franchise.

Citizens Vote 5-1 For Plans

PALO ALTO, Feb. 16—Approved almost 5-1 in yesterday's election, bonds in the amount of $175,000 for construction of a new 80-bed addition to Palo Alto Hospital will be sold at once so that bids may be sought early in April, city officials said today.

The proposed addition to the hospital will include an infirmary for Stanford students on the first floor; private rooms and wards on the second and third floors; operating rooms, and an obstetrics ward on the fourth floor.

City officials estimated construction would start late in the spring. Six weeks will be required yet to complete plans and specifications for the 4-story wing.

The vote on the bonds was 1402 yes, 308 no. Every precinct voted overwhelmingly for the issue. Approximately 22 per cent of the city's 7523 registered voters cast ballots.

The election yesterday came after only a brief campaign. The bonds were vigorously supported editorially by the Palo Alto Times.

Plans for enlarging the hospital were presented to the council in December. The hospital is owned by the City of Palo Alto but operated by Stanford University in conjunction with Stanford Lane Hospital.

The present hospital kitchen, laundry, dining room and X-ray room and laboratory are adequate to care for the increased capacity, according to the city officials.

Quarry Theft Brings Charges Against Pair

Rexford Watson, 22, San Francisco junk dealer, was arraigned on grand theft charges in Judge Arthur Stetson's court, Hillsborough, late yesterday, and released on $500 bail. Harold O'Neal, 36, San Francisco, charged with the same offense, was released on his own recognizance.

Jewel Thief On Probation

Elinor Crawford, alias Elinor Koepke, San Bruno jewel thief, walked out of the San Mateo County Jail Tuesday, free once more under probation. Probation was granted for one year late yesterday by Judge Maxwell McNutt on condition that she serve 30 day in the county jail.

She received credit for time already served, which was 29 days. She pleaded guilty to second degree burglary charges after she was trapped in a San Bruno inn with stolen jewelry in her possession.

E. O. Apple, convicted on fictitious check charges, was also freed by Judge McNutt on probation. He was given credit for 42 days already served.

In department 2 Harold Thompson, Redwood City youth charged with forgery and grand theft, pleaded not guilty.

Plea of Joseph McGuiggan, returned from the state hospital at Ukiah to face burglary charges, was changed to "not guilty by reason of insanity" on motion of his attorney, Percy W. Jackson.

Frederick Davies, Napa, jailed on bad check charges, was given two more weeks to plead.

Trial of A. B. Stanberry, charged with a morals offense, was set for Mar. 4, and trial of Benjamin Dance, San Mateo painter charged with hit-run homicide, was scheduled for Feb. 24-25 in Judge McNutt's court. C. W. Hoffman and George A. Secker, jailed on check charges, were arraigned and given one week to plead. Gee Toy, San Mateo, arrested on a narcotics charge, was also arraigned and given a week to plead.

Legionnaire Urges Adequate Defense

SAN MATEO, Feb. 16—"It is not sensible or sane to sit back while the rest of the world is in flames and expect the treasure house that is the United States to be immune from international greed, hate and avarice.

"The only safe course for the United States is to hold ourselves ready materially for national defense, and also spiritually ready to fulfill our duty to the government."

In these sentences did Eugene Barrett, San Francisco attorney and prominent Legionnaire, strike the keynote of his talk on "National Defense" last evening at the Redwood City Night meeting of the San Mateo American Legion Post 82. Fifteen members of Redwood City Legion Post 105 were guests at the San Mateo Legion Hall.

General Welfare Act Explained at Meet

What the General Welfare Act now before the House Ways and Means Committee proposes to do and how it would operate if passed was told by Judge M. C. Summers, lecturer on bank credit and tax laws, to more than 50 business men and women at luncheon Monday at the Canton Cafe.

Blaming business recession on the fact that too much money is tied up in frozen assets and characterizing the General Welfare Act as a curative measure which would release money into circulation, Judge Summers described the 2 per cent transaction tax by which sevenue for operation of the act would be secured. From money raised by this tax, to be collected by the internal revenue bureau, would be distributed monthly payments by the portoffice department to persons more than 60 years of age and not working, he pointed out.

The amount paid each individual would depend upon the amount collected, with the secretary of the treasury having the power to lower the tax rate if sufficient funds could be obtained for less than 2 per cent, he said. The act provides that the amount paid each individual monthly shall never exceed $200.

He described the act as an auxiliary or corallary law to those laws now in force and expressed the opinion that through release of approximately one and one-half billion dollars each month, business depression and recession would be overcome.

There are 704 broadcast stations licensed or under construction in the United States.

DIVORCE ME? I'M NOT MARRIED, 'MATE' ANSWERS ELLA CHASE

'Missing' Husband Shows Up to File Novel Answer to Desertion Complaint

Wrapped in a neat package of legal cellophane, the unique answer of Bellman M. Chase to the divorce complaint of Ella A. Chase of Lomita Park, candidate for supervisor in 1936, exploded in the superior court Tuesday.

Supposedly missing for five years, Chase came back with a vengeance.

Meat of the document, which promised to assume some of the less desirable characteristics of the carcass of San Francisco's Winnie the Whale, was this:

Chase denies that "plaintiff and this defendant intermarried in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or any other place."

In brief, Mr. Chase's answer to the complaint for divorce is that he can't be divorced because he isn't married.

Specifically, Chase "denies that plantiff and this defendant are husband and wife or were ever married."

Mrs. Chase, once dubbed by former Supervisor Albert J. Witt as the "sixth member of the board of supervisors," filed her divorce complaint last Dec. 8. She alleged that Chase deserted her, failed to provide for her, and subjected her to mental cruelty which impaired her health.

WILL CONTINUE SEPARATED

She also asked title to certain property in Lomita Park, which, she said, was recorded in the name of her husband by mistake. She claimed to have paid for the property, and not only asked for divorce, but sought title to the Lomita Park home as sole owner, or at least as community property to be awarded to her by the court.

Chase's answer made the white legal form sizzle.

He admits that he lives separate and apart from Mrs. Chase, but, he says, they were never separated because they "are not now and never have been husband and wife."

He avers that he intends to continue to live "separate and apart."

He alleges that "said plaintiff has from time to time pleaded with this defendant to marry her and take up his residence with her. That he refused and declined to do so."

He contends that he has no obligation to provide her with the common necessities of life, that he was ever guilty of treating her with cruelty, that he ever cursed and swore at her.

Furthermore, he "will not marry the said plaintiff," according to his answer.

He admits that the plaintiff cannot live with the defendant "for the good and sufficient reason that the defendant will not live with said plaintiff." He admits that the plaintiff has a child.

Chase contends that the plaintiff's name is not Ella A. Chase, but Ella Agnes McLoskey, and asks the court to enjoin her from further use of his name.

On Oct. 11, 1903, Chase married Bertha Vivian Patton in San Francisco, he states. He was not divorced until Feb. 11, 1912. He charges that the plaintiff knew Miss Patton before Oct. 11, 1903, and visited the home of the defendant and his wife.

KNEW PREVIOUS WIFE

He alleges, "That at the time the plaintiff alleges she married his defendant on the 6th day of April, 1908, the plaintiff knew that this defendant was married to said Bertha Vivian Patton, as the plaintiff personally knew of the marriage and had many times visited the home of this defendant and his said wife."

Chase said that he filed his answer voluntarily "so that the court may be properly advised of the facts and the plaintiff be judged without any rights in the premises." He says he was never served with either a summons or a copy of the complaint, and was informed of its existence by a stranger.

He contends that Mrs. Chase, or Miss McLoskey, seeks to obtain his real property "without right," and he asks the court to judge:

1. That the plaintiff is not his wife.
2. That he is the sole owner of the Lomita Park home.
3. That the plaintiff has no right or title to the property.
4. That the plaintiff "be enjoined from claiming or asserting any right or title to the property," and that she be "enjoined and restrained from using the name of Chase and from claiming to be his wife.

Chase, former seaman, has W. H. Morrissey as counsel. Mrs Chase is represented by the law firm of O'Keefe & O'Keefe.

Mrs. Chase, a regular attendant at meetings of the board of supervisors, is secretary of the San Mateo County Taxpayers Protective Association.

According to Morrissey, Chase was for many years a purser on coastal steamers, but has been doing clerical work in San Francisco for the past five years.

"He has not been missing, as alleged in the plaintiff's complaint," Morrissey said.

Defense Week Is Observed

This week, coming as it does between Lincoln's and Washington's birthday anniversaries, is celebrated as National Defense Week.

While there will be no special celebration in Redwood City or vicinity in connection with the week, in San Francisco Mayor Rossi issued a proclamation naming the period of National Defense Week, to continue through Washington's Birthday.

American Legion members during the week are stressing importance of passage of the universal service measure, now before congress, which would place capital, industry and manpower on an equal status in the event of an emergency threatening the country.

The Sheppard-Hill measures, S. 25 and H. R. 6704, are No. 1 item of the legislative program of the legion. National Comm. Daniel J. Doherty has urged all legion organizations to institute steps to mobilize full strength of the legion and its auxiliary in support of the measure.

There was no systematic newspaper reporting until the beginning of the 19th century.
